ABOUT US

The HANDS (Helping Answer Needs by Developing Specialists) in Autism Resource Center is affiliated with the Christian Sarkine Autism Treatment Center at Riley at IU Health and the IU School of Medicine. This Center is currently supported in part from grants from IU Health as well as from the Indiana Department of Education. The IDOE funding is to support the HANDS in Autism as one of six Indiana Resource Network resource and training centers designed to provide coordinated technical assistance to schools and communities across the state. Supported also by a number of charitable and philanthropic donations, the HANDS program offers a variety of live and online training opportunities free to educational and medical professionals, service providers, and parents.
